

SVG Open 2009

SVG coming of age

October 2-4, 2009 Mountain View, CA

At the SVG Open Conference you will learn to use SVG to create effective and compelling web content and learn techniques for using SVG in software. You can meet creators of SVG applications in person as well as the authors of the SVG specifications. The conference will be of interest to

- Software developers
- Web and UI designers
- Web application developers
- Graphic artists
- Creators of mobile computing solutions
- GIS, CAD, and modeling specialists
- Data visualization creators and users

Registration Register online at <http://svgopen.org/>

Venue The SVG Open 2009 conference will be held October 2-4, 2009, in Mountain View, California, hosted by Google at their Crittenden Lane campus.

Registration and more information at <http://svgopen.org/>

Hosted by

Supported by

